

ECI has implemented and managed hundreds of voice solutions for leading financial services companies since 1996. Allow our industry experts to provide you with a free consultation on the most robust and reliable converged telephony and VoIP technology that will not only satisfy your current and future voice solution needs, but will also improve how you communicate in and away from the office on a daily basis.

ECI's voice solutions expertise spans an array of proven product lines that we have found through experience to be the "best of breed" to suit our clients' unique communication needs. Our consultants and engineers are certified and trained to assist you with multiple telephony vendors, so that you can feel secure in the knowledge that the voice solution you choose will be tailored to fit your precise needs and budget. ECI will also provide a consultation regarding the best practices for ensuring that you have uninterrupted voice services in the event of a disaster.
